

Privacy Policy

We are committed to protecting your privacy. If you are associated with Global Health Education Partnership (GHEP) we will protect your data. To understand how your personal data will be treated whilst visiting this web site, please read the following. This policy may change from time to time so please review it periodically.

1. We collect information in several ways from different parts of our web site. Any personal information is entered manually by you via our various forms. We use cookies and sessions to enhance your experience of the website and these are only used when needed.
2. The information collected can also consist of the data provided by your browser when requesting a page or submitting a form. This information contains the current state of your browser and is present as standard as part of the http protocol.
3. Personal data may also be requested when you report a problem with one of our sites or services.

4. Cookies

This site uses cookies to allow it to perform certain tasks. A cookie is a small text file created by a website which temporarily stores certain settings and information about the user (you) on your computer.

We use cookies to:

- Allow you to switch styles and remember that choice from page to page in order to display the correct style. It does not store who made the choice, just what the choice was.
- Remember your language preference in order to display the correct language as you move from page to page. Who made the choice is not stored, just what the choice was.
- Remember information you have entered in a form so you don't need to enter it again. You will be made aware of the forms that do use this technique and you can choose to opt out of using this technique.

We do NOT use cookies to:

- Track which websites you have visited
- Allow third parties to display adverts
- Track and record who you are for advertising purposes

If you want to delete any cookies that are already on your computer, please refer to the instructions for your file management software to locate the file or directory that stores cookies.

If you want to stop cookies being stored on your computer in future, please refer to your internet browser's instructions by clicking 'Help' in its menu. Please note that by deleting our cookies or disabling future cookies you may not be able to access certain areas of our site.

5. How do we use your information? Our primary goal in collecting personal data is to provide you with a service, customised experience on our web sites. We also use the information to check what type of browsers are in use.

6. We will never share your information outside of GHEP without full permission and consent.

If you have any questions with respect to this policy or any other privacy matters, or the security of our site, please email info@globalhep.com
